

A second thinking system

Working with AI without outsourcing a point of view.

FIELD NOTES / 01

————— An essay in five parts

Keep the question open.

A fast answer can close a thought too early.

What am I assuming?

What would change my mind?

The useful conversation begins with a better question.

Collect. Connect. Challenge.

Three moves for a thought worth keeping.

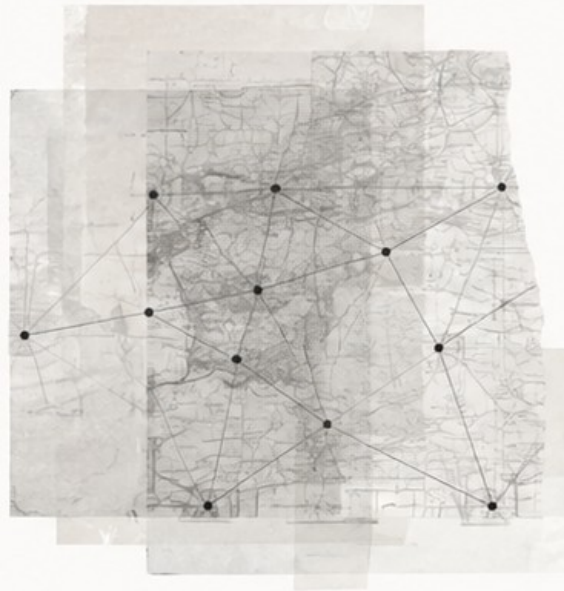

Collect

Keep the source close.

Connect

Put distant ideas in contact.

Challenge

Ask what the pattern leaves out.

Leave a trace of the thinking.

A small record makes a conversation reusable.

01

Source

What did I encounter?

02

Question

What does it unsettle?

03

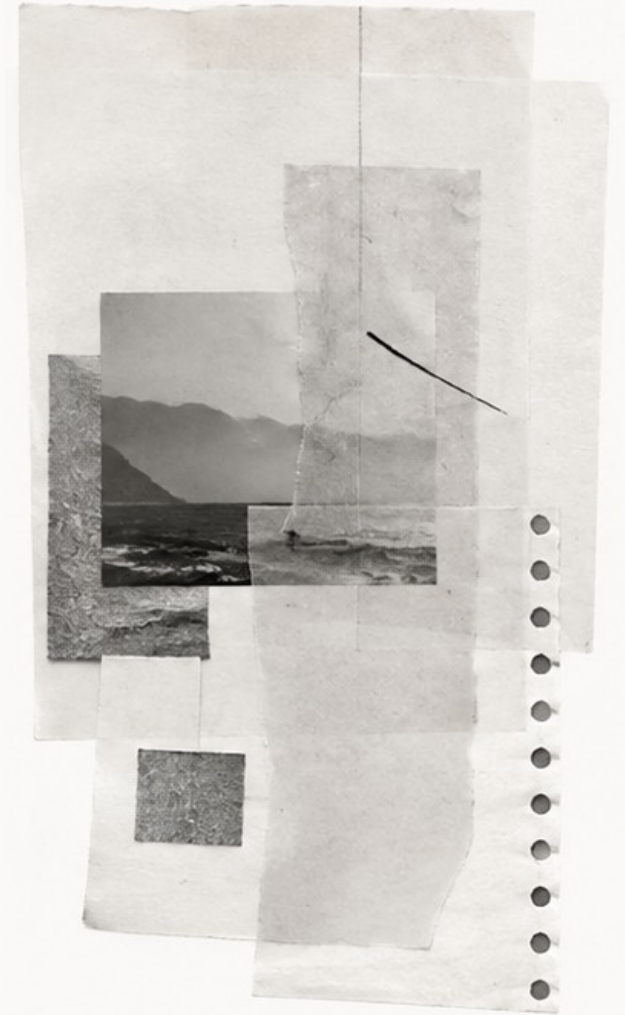

Counterargument

What is the strongest objection?

04

Decision

What will I carry forward?

The point of view is still yours.

Let the system widen the field.

Choose what deserves to remain.

A second thinking system. A first-person responsibility.
